SCOTSDALE BREWERY BURNED; TANK OF AMMONIA EXPLODED.

The Loss Will Be in the Neighborhood of $100,000, and There Is $40,000 Insurance on Property.

THE PLANT WAS BRANCH ONE

Of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company and Was Used for Ice Making and the Storage of Beer—Firemen
Fought Hard to Check the Flames.

SCOTSDALE, July 17.—The explosion of a tank of ammonia in the plant of the Scottdale brewery of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, at Park and Edwin avenues, made a sudden, spectacular and destructive fire at 10:30 last night. The loss is estimated at $100,000, and it is said that the insurance was $40,000. Two firemen were hurt, but not seriously. The ruins of the parts of the structure that was destroyed are still smoldering today and lines of hose have been left to play upon them.

There were four men in the ice making section when the ammonia tank burst. In an instant the entire place was enveloped in flames, and in less than a minute, by the testimony of people about there, the flames were shooting from the windows. The people in the plant made a dash for the doors and all succeeded in getting out before being caught by the flames or overpowered from the fumes of the ammonia. None of them were hurt. They were Thomas Ross and Thomas Fiddler, the engineers, James C. Horne, and J. R. Anderson, a machinist, from the mill. The latter two were making some repairs to the engine.

The fire started so quickly that the entire town seemed to know of it before the alarm was sounded, although it came within a couple of minutes. The roar of the exploding tank drew the attention of people living in that part of town. They no more looked out until they saw a glare that lighted up clear to Chestnut street. Out from the telephone the people at the brewery could send in no alarm. Frederick Mosler, night yardmaster at Scottdale tracks, telephoned the alarm to the Scottdale furnace, and even before the whistle sounded the rattle of the hose cart from the borough building could be heard. The fire took the quickest start of any ever in Scottdale.

The brewery plant is of peculiar architecture, running from one to five stories in height, and covering a plot of ground about 150 by 200 feet. It consists of brewing plant, storehouses, ice plant, stables and other outbuildings. At the first alarm the half a dozen horses belonging to the company and used for deliveries of ice and beer were got out of the stables and turned loose. The ice wagons were also got out, and this morning started on their rounds, taking from the stock house a day's supply of ice. The ice plant is destroyed, and an ice famine may result in town when the present stock is exhausted.

Hundreds of people gathered on the nearby streets, crowding them thickly and up close to the buildings, in spite of the danger if any more ammonia tanks were in the building or if the boilers which were directly under the hottest part of the fire should let go.

It was a hard night for the firemen and they risked their lives in fighting the tremendous blaze. Carrying their lines of hose they worked close to the walls, in imminent danger of being crushed by them should the walls cave in or be blown up with any explosion from the power plant upon whose roof they were working. Several walls did fall with great roars, but the boys kept on playing upon the flames, although the streams seemed to have little effect upon the structure. Only two so far as is now known were hurt. They were G. W. Sprinkle, who had his left arm severely burned by a falling timber, and Charles Shupe, who fell and hurt his leg. Mr. Sprinkle was one of those who stayed on the building all night. The fire seemingly spent most of its force at midnight, leaving the walls standing, the warehouse and stables unharmed. The following firemen were on duty all night: G. W. Sprinkle, Arthur Collins, George Tedrow, Smith Hamilton, I. H. Knipfle and J. R. Dieterhoff. They rendered excellent service in keeping the flames confined to particular sections. At four o'clock this morning a heavy thunder storm with a force downpour contributed to the work of smothering the fire.

All the departments were there, but the hose supply was inadequate to fight a large fire, without leaving the other sections of town wholly without any protection of reserve fire hose. The West Penn Railway Company's cars were held up by the lines of hose across the tracks. One of their cars hurried out to Brownstown and, loading the hose there, brought it quickly to the scene of the fire. They lost every aid to the borough. In sharp contrast to this was the action of an automobile party from Mt. Pleasant. The number of the car was 1208. When it came down at midnight it ran over three sections of hose before the firemen noticed the damage. When it came back they stopped the machine and ordered them not to run over any more hose, but to take another way around. The chief men in the party, said to be a young Mr. Stupe, became very positive of what he was going to do, and that he was simply going to travel over the hose. He was told that it would damage the hose. The firemen had begun to lose patience by this time, and gave the pleasure seekers to understand that when they went over the hose there would be something doing that was not down on the bill. The party finally went back to take another street.

The last thing heard from the brick plant young citizen of Mt. Pleasant as they were a good distance away was an invitation of what firemen might do and where they were welcome to go in.

During the early progress of the fire there was a fear that it would spread to the houses of that section or the J. W. Rush lumber yards on the opposite side of the tracks. There was but little wind going and the construction of the building made the blaze remain inside the walls for the most part. The buildings were of brick and steel frame construction work, and were erected under the personal supervision of John W. Kennedy about nine years ago. After the merging of the brewery with the Pittsburgh Brewing Company there was a succession of manufacture at this point except the ice plant. Several times it was reported that the brewery was going to start up. General Manager M. J. Kennedy said some time ago that this would be easy, with the installation of but a comparatively small part of machinery. The former plant burned several years ago at the time the Holt distillery went up in flames.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

Funeral of Reinhard Hohman of Scottdale Will Be Held Today.

SCOTSDALE, July 17.—[Special.] The funeral of Reinhard Hohman, aged 68, husband of Catherine Hohman, who died in Scottdale after an illness of two months, takes place this afternoon in Allegheny. He was born in Kuhl, Hesse, Germany, in 1839, and came to this country in the 50's, locating in Pittsburg. He came to Scottdale about a year and a half ago to work at a cutlery plant where he worked until it was located in Allegheny.

At the outbreak of the war Mr. Hohman enlisted in Company B, Seventy-fourth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and served three years. At Gettysburg his regiment was almost annihilated. The surviving members besides the widow are four sons, John W., of East Liverpool; William G., of Scottdale; Harry, of Allegheny; and Frederick M., now on his way home from the Philippines, and two daughters, Mrs. Lizzie Stedford and Mrs. Emma Russ, both of Allegheny.

SCOTSDALE, July 17.—[Special.] Getting hold of some morphine pills that a physician had prescribed for neuralgia for her mother, Frances, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sherlock of Short street, the little one ate some of the pills and died soon after on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. A. J. Rodgers and G. W. McKee were called in when it was found that the child was sick, but it was then too late to save the little one's life.

The pills, it is said, had been put away in a cupboard where it was not thought that any of the children could reach them, but Frances climbed up while her mother was out of doors and found them.

NO MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL HELD.

Although Eight Members of the City Fathers Were Within Easy Range of Each Other They Could Not Scrape Up a Quorum.

There was no Council meeting last night. All members of the Council were in the neighborhood of the Council room, but for some reason a quorum could not be scraped up. Councilmen Porter, Stillwagon, Dean and McCormick occupied the stone steps in front of the Public Building for upwards of half an hour, while Councilmen Friel, Girard, Huston and Millard took up quarters on West Main street, a short distance above Arch street.

WEST PENN WINS.

Judge Work Decides They May Continue Construction of Their Road in Brownsville.

UNIONTOWN, July 17.—By an important order handed down by Judge J. C. Work this morning, the West Penn Railway Company is permitted to continue the construction of their road in the Borough of Brownsville and the injunction proceedings brought by the Uniontown, Brownsville and West Slip Railway against the Brownsville Street Railway are dismissed. The latter company a West Penn subsidiary line, sought the right under an ordinance to pass over several streets in the town of Brownsville, but a temporary injunction restraining them was issued. After arguments upon the injunction it was decided by counsel to allow H. P. Detweiler as referee to make a report. On May 4, 1907, Attorney Detweiler made his report finding in favor of the defendant company and leaving it to the court to pass upon July 17. Judge E. H. R. reported the case from the Common Pleas Court to Judge Work of the Orphans Court, who made an order today confirming the findings of the referee and made and adopted a decree that the bill of injunction be dismissed against the Brownsville Street Railway, and find August 12, passed and adopted by the Council of the Borough of Brownsville granting right and privilege to the Brownsville, Uniontown & West Slip Railway was null and void and of no effect, for the reason that it was not signed by the Burgess. He further finds that the ordinance of August 19, 1906, granting powers and privileges to the Brownsville Street Railway Company is in full force and effect. The costs of the proceeding are to be borne by the Brownsville Street Railway Company. The plaintiff company is represented by John R. Hyne and a number of other Fayette county attorneys.

HORSE THIEF CHASE.

Lively One On Between Berlin and Town in Westmoreland.

A REWARD OF $100 IS OFFERED

Fifty Dollars by Joseph Myers, Who Lost the Horse, and Another Fifty Dollars by the Commissioners of Somerset County.

Special to The Courier.

BERLIN, Pa., July 17.—If Henry Dively is in the Western Penitentiary it cannot be disputed that the gang of horse thieves are still at work at the old stand. On Sunday evening a bay mare, harness and buggy were stolen from the barn of Joseph Meyers in Allegheny township, a short distance from the Dively home. Suspicion seems to center on one person who was loitering about Berlin for several days last week, and signally disappeared about the time the horse and buggy were stolen.

Mr. Meyers found early Monday morning that his stable had been entered and the horse, harness and buggy taken. He immediately drove to Berlin, and from here he went to Somerset, accompanied by Justice of the Peace Robert M. Walker. The officers were put on the trail of the horse thief without delay. It is thought that they will have very little difficulty in capturing him, since the mare wore no shoes, and could be easily tracked. About all his traveling must be done after dark, unless he should visit a blacksmith shop in the meantime. Mr. Meyers offers $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the thief, and the Commissioners of Somerset county offered another $50, thus making $100.

A dispatch from Somerset late last night stated that a man with a horse and buggy answering the description stopped yesterday morning at the home of Robert T. Hill, a minister of the Lutheran Church, near Bakersville, where the man took breakfast and had the horse fed. It is now thought that the thief is between Bakersville and Staebstown, Westmoreland county, and every track and corner between the two points is being watched carefully by the officers in charge. The final escape of the thief now seems almost impossible.

That there is a well organized band of horse thieves in the eastern part of Somerset county cannot well be disputed. All efforts are being made to bring them to time.

A GREAT CROWD

Saw Great Display of Fireworks by Italians at the Park Last Evening.

The display of fireworks at the Martindale-Stillwagon park under the auspices of the Italians in celebration of the feast of the Virgin Mary, was the best that has ever been given in Connellsville. It eclipsed the Centennial fireworks by a large margin. The only feature that was not enjoyed was the long wait for the setting off of the pyrotechnics.

The grounds began filling at 7:30 o'clock and the display was not started until 9:45. By this time the place was crowded to an uncomfortable degree. There were twelve sets of pieces in the display and they were elegant. After the display was started it was carried on rapidly and all had been exploded by 10:30 o'clock. Everything worked smoothly and no accidents occurred.

HOME WEDDING

Of Miss Maralloyd Johnston and Charles Johnston at Noon Today.

A very pretty but quiet home wedding was that of Miss Maralloyd Johnston, youngest daughter of Captain and Mrs. Lloyd Johnston, and Charles Johnston of New Castle, which was solemnized at high noon today at the home of the bride on South Pittsburg street. Rev. Leigh Layman, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, officiated. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Gary Johnston of Salem, Va., a brother of the groom, served as best man, while Miss Mary Dick and Miss Eleanor Huggs were the ushers. As the bride party entered the parlor where the ceremony was performed, the wedding march was rendered by Miss Penelope Dunn. During the ceremony "The Wedding March" was softly rendered. The bride wore a handsome white satin princess gown and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast of 32 covers. The bride's table, at which covers were laid for eight, was in pink and white, a large bouquet of roses being used as a centerpiece. The various apartments were beautifully decorated for the occasion, pink and white being the color scheme used in carrying out all the appointments. Bouquets of roses and ferns and palms were used.

The groom is a member of the B. & O. civil engineering corps located at New Castle and was formerly located here. After an extensive trip Mr. Johnston and his bride will retire to New Castle where they will reside. Mrs. Billings of Pittsburg was the only out-of-town guest.

BOTH LEGS CUT OFF.

Young Man Named Rugg Meets With Fatal Accident Near Fort Hill Yesterday Afternoon.

F. E. or Curtis Rugg, a young man whose home is in the vicinity of Martindale had both legs cut off at Fort Hill last night and died shortly after being brought to the hospital here. The only means of identification about the young man were two letters each having a different name. Word from Fort Hill says that Rugg was attempting to board a train when he slipped and fell beneath it. As soon as the accident occurred what aid could be given him at the little station here was exhausted. They were hurried to the hospital, where he was taken to the hospital No. 49 along he was brought here.

The unfortunate man had lost considerable blood and was terribly weak from the shock. It was seen that he could live but a short time after arriving at the hospital. His relatives were notified of his death and the remains taken in charge by Funeral Director J. E. Stimmis. Members of his family will arrive today.

POLICE COURT.

Baldwin Avenue Man Had to Be Brought In on a Wheelbarrow.

Latellus Trump, a rather aged resident of Baldwin avenue was before Burgess A. D. Solson this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly. Trump was rather vague about his actions, but there were clotheslines and neighbors mixed up in it. The officers stated that they were called to the Trump home by the neighbors who said there was a terrible disturbance going on there. Trump remonstrated with the officers, taking him to the lockup and became pugnacious in his demonstrations. A wheelbarrow of the neighborhood was impounded and he was wheeled a part of the way to the police station. Officer Anderson doing the wheeling and Officer Mims holding the prisoner in the barrow. They had a tough time of it and finally abandoned the wheelbarrow and almost carried Trump in. It was given the choice of a fine of $7.50 or five days to the cells.

William Wallace and J. E. Roach of Pittsburg, representing "Old Bridgeport Rye," were arrested by Officer Lewis for violating the Blue Bird Ordinance. They were engaged in tacking up signs around town. The men had only put up a few signs and pleaded ignorance of the ordinance. In view of the fact that the ordinance has only been in effect a short time they were dismissed after promising to tear the placards down.

G. W. Barber of 519 Highland avenue, arrested on complaint of his wife and neighbors was given five days to the lockup for being drunk and disorderly.

John Howell, a youth from Norfolk, Virginia, was held pending an investigation. He was arrested while riding a freight train last night en route to Pittsburg to get work.

HEAVY RAIN.

Down Town Portions of the Borough Were Flooded by Torrent That Fell Last Night.

Connellsville was again visited by a heavy rain storm last night, and many of the streets of town were flooded. North Pittsburg street between Main and the Pennsylvania railroad was covered with mud and dirt to a depth of a foot, and until noon today Street Commissioner Stauffer had been unable to remove the debris. It costs in the neighborhood of $50 to clean this street after a rain like that of last night, and it has been cleaned dozens of times. Eighth street received its usual deposit of dirt and teams and men were working on it all day today. The South Side came in for an unusual flooding and the streets in that section were also covered with mud and debris. Several of the sewers were clogged up and the pavements were also covered with mud.

ROMANCE IN THE MARRIAGE.

There Had Been Trouble in the Family for Years Over Money Matters. Sad Feature of Case Was Suicide of Frau's Wife Several Weeks Ago.

Special to The Courier.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, July 17.—Karl Hau, the young professor formerly attached to George Washington University, Washington, D. C., was placed on trial here today for the alleged murder of his mother-in-law, Frau Molitor. The former high standing of the accused, the mystery surrounding the alleged crime and the recent suicide of Professor's Hau's young wife, have combined to attract widespread attention to the case and the trial will doubtless attract great attention throughout Europe and in America. Notwithstanding the fact that he has been formally examined and pronounced sane by experts, it is probable that mental irresponsibility will play a part in the defense of Prof. Hau. He is represented by eminent counsel and it is evident that a hard fight will be made to save him from conviction.

Frau Molitor was the widow of the Medical Councilor, Dr. Molitor of Baden Baden. On the evening of November 6, last, she was called to the telephone at her home in Baden Baden and received a request to go to the postoffice and get a parcel that was there for her. She started at once. When passing through a quiet street a shot was fired from behind her, and Frau Molitor fell dead. The man who fired the shot was seen, but he escaped. It is stated that Frau Molitor had long been threatened, and that cunning plots were laid against her. The motive for the alleged crime appears to have been greed for money. Frau Molitor, who was wealthy, it is said, refused many times to comply with Hau's request for money, having given her daughter a considerable dowry, and arranged that she should inherit part of her fortune.

Karl Hau, the accused man, is not yet 30 years of age. He is tall and slender, well educated and of fine appearance. He was just 20 when he married Miss Molitor. It was an elopement and the young couple began a restless, roving life. Hau had begun to study law at the University of Erlangen, but had discontinued his studies.

While the marriage itself, contracted against the mother's will, carried with it all the elements calculated to disturb the relations between the mother and her children, the continuous applications for money also did not contribute toward improving her relations with her son-in-law. Nevertheless, she arranged the couple into her house upon their visits to Baden Baden, and she sent them money during their travels.

The sums sent, however, were not so large as Hau demanded. Hence the life of the family was always a distressing story. It is probable, too, that Frau Molitor's harshness contributed toward increasing disagreements in the Hau family. At any rate she sometimes made trouble for him, even abroad, by denouncing him as an anarchist to the authorities.

Hau was arrested in London a few weeks after the alleged murder. At the time of his arrest he denied all connection with the crime, and ever since stuck to his story, though it is said he has made several damaging admissions. At his preliminary examination he admitted that he had been at Baden Baden up to the time when the murder occurred. It had been ascertained, however, that he was a false bond in traveling from Baden Baden to England. Frau Molitor's servant girl who answered the telephone on the fatal day asserted positively after the murder that she had recognized Hau's voice in the telephone.

One of the pathetic features of the case was the suicide of Professor Hau's young wife. On June 8 she was seen to swim far out into a lake near Pfaffenlikon, Switzerland, and then deliberately sank beneath the waters. Two days previously she had paid a visit to her husband in prison here. She left the prison in a state of the utmost depression and went back to Pfaffenlikon. A long farewell letter was found in her clothing after her suicide, in which she declared it was impossible for her any longer to bear the sorrow of living apart from her husband, notwithstanding the charge brought against him. The Governor of the prison informed Professor Hau of his wife's suicide and a story was told that he confessed.

WEDNESDAY EVE., JULY 17, 1907.

DODGING A QUORUM OF THE COUNCIL.

The members of the Town Council played hide-and-seek together last evening. The weather was hot enough to fry a hippopotamus, but not a shrimp turned out. All remained that natural green color which denotes active life and unabated jealousy in the performance or non-performance of public duty.

There was no meeting of the Town Council in consequence, but there was an encounter on the street during the evening. The debate was lively while it lasted. Parliamentary language and practice were cast to the gentle breeze that wafted at rare intervals the superheated sentiment into the less blazing atmosphere. The oratory was not as brilliant and enervating as the Italian fireworks out in Marietta & Stillwagon Park, but it was at intervals quite as fiery, and within the sphere of its influence attracted quite as much attention.

Such meetings as these are not profitable to the public nor to the Councilmen. We would respectfully suggest that future meetings be held in the Council Chamber in the regular order and at the regular times, and that the business of the borough be proceeded with promptly at the hour named for the meeting to open if a quorum be present; if not, then just as soon as a quorum appears; that the business be open to the public, so that each member of Council may be held personally responsible for all his acts. The practice of dodging a quorum has been on the rise too prevalent in Connellsville. It should be avoided rather than encouraged, even though the intentions of the dodgers be most excellent. It is a dangerous practice too prone to be used for evil.

Besides, there is another feature to it. The courts have a habit of removing from office Councilmen who deliberately refuse to meet or who otherwise stubbornly block the wheels of public business.

The Slavish practice of shooting up every wedding and christening that occurs in this section is one that must be discouraged if we have to fill the jails with the offenders and build a bull-pen for its overflow, or if we have to buy a fresh lot of hempen rope.

The Uniontown hospital is to be doctor'd up.

BOROUGH IMPROVEMENT.

Bid for Streets and Sewers Considered at Meyersdale.

MEYERSDALE, July 17.—[Special.] The borough Council met in adjourned session last night for the purpose of considering the bids advertised for a considerable amount of paving and sewerage to be completed this year. As there was only one bid, it was decided not to open it and extend the time for receiving them until Monday evening, the 22d inst.

Other business was also transacted, notably the instruction of Borough Solicitor George K. Wain to draw up two ordinances, one for the more stringent regulation of the running at large of dogs, and another making it a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $1 for each offense for expectorating upon any of the sidewalks or in any of the public places of the borough. Council then adjourned to meet again Monday evening next.

STREET CAR SUITS.

Rival Lines Engage in Litigation in Somerset County.

MEYERSDALE, July 16.—[Special.] The early morning train today took quite a bunch of witnesses and others interested in the street car cases that were scheduled to come up in the Somerset county court this morning.

Among the number were Messrs. H. H. Maist and John M. Wright, General Manager and Assistant General Manager, respectively, of the Pennsylvania & Maryland Street Railway Company, William N. BUTLER GETS SECOND

The Connellsville Boys Were Away Off on Fielding Yesterday.

ERRORS AT CRITICAL STAGES.

Roth Jones and Eyerman Pitched Nice Ball, but the Latter Made a Couple of Blunders That Let Run a Score.

Butler beat Connellsville in the second game of the series yesterday afternoon at the park. The score was 9 to 2. The feature of the game was that eight of Butler's nine runs were unearned. With men on bases, the local boys went to pieces. They were away off in their fielding, piling up a total of eight errors. Nearly every one of them was costly. In the third game runs came over the pan when Chip Francis did something he very rarely does, drop a fly in flight. He had to come in considerable distance on the ball, but he got under it fairly and then it hopped out of his glove. Two men were out and two baserunners raced for home as soon as the ball was hit. In the following inning Butler scored two more runs on an error and base hitting. In the fifth Eyerman was responsible for three runs when he threw the ball wide of third with men on first and third. A ball was hit to him and he threw the ball to third instead of trying for the man at first. The ball was shot toward Birmingham with great force and in addition was so wide of the bag that he did not reach it. Before O'Hara had returned the ball from the vicinity of the ticket office the two runners on the bases had scored and also the man who hit the ball.

Eyerman pitched good ball aside from bad fielding. But seven hits were made off him. In the second inning Connellsville scored two runs on a three base hit by Francis. Single by Tate and rocky fielding by Butler. The score should have remained that way until the sixth and seventh. Elum had a three base hit and a single. Linneborn played a star game at second for Butler. He got under short flies that looked like hits and two or three times raced over second and gathered in ground hits, fielding them to first in time to head off the runner. The score:

GET KEANE.

John Duggan Scouting for Uniontown Picks Up Fast Washington Man for Champs.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Keane late last night signed a contract to play for the Uniontown team of the P. O. M. League. John Duggan, who played on the Georgetown team last season, is the scout of the Uniontown club. He dropped into town last night and when he left on the midnight train he had both the signed contract and Keane with him. This is not Keane's first experience in professional baseball. After playing with Georgetown for four years he went to the Milton, Del. team for a season. From there he went to the Virginia League, and from the southern circuit he went to Toledo. He played good ball in the American Association, but inexperience was against him and he was released. Later that season he played with the Cumberland club. It was thought that Keane had given up baseball for good, but the terms of the Uniontown manager suited the outfielder, and he signed.

Keane is one of the best ball players the city has ever produced. He is a left-handed fielder and hitter and in the different leagues in which he has played he has never hit below the 300 mark.

FIGHT TONIGHT.

Bob Fitzsimmons and Jack Johnson Meet in Philadelphia for Six Rounds This Evening.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—(Special.)—Tonight for the first time since he was knocked out by Jack O'Brien in December, 1905, the veteran Bob Fitzsimmons is to don the padded mitts and face an opponent in the ring. As a part of the entertainment program prepared for the visiting Elks, the Washington Sporting Club has arranged for a six round bout between the former champion and Jack Johnson, the big colored heavyweight. It is the first time in a year or more that a fight between heavyweights of known ability has been pulled off in the east, and as a consequence keen interest is manifested in the event. The club expects a record-breaking crowd at the ringside.

The ring followers are curious to see if Fitzsimmons is "all in," as has been the general impression in sporting circles since the fight with O'Brien. If the Australian remains any considerable part of his old time cleverness and hitting powers it goes without saying that Johnson will have to keep busy during the six round engagement. In his prime Fitzsimmons would have disposed of a man of Johnson's calibre in very short order. Whether, at 45 years of age, he is still possessed of sufficient vitality to turn the trick remains to be seen. Many of his old time admirers do not hesitate to assert their belief that he is still more than a match for a fighter of Johnson's class.

SCOTSDALE LOSES.

Farmington Wing and Beaver Falls Took Contest From Clarksburg Yesterday.

Scottdale lost to Farmington yesterday by a score of 3 to 1. Timely hitting in the eighth inning won for Farmington. Up to that time the score was a tie, though Scottdale had the best of the argument up to the seventh inning.

The Scottdale team is stronger now than at any time since the West Penn opened and the management fully expects to land well up in the second season. Clarksburg lost to Beaver Falls again yesterday. Butler by winning from Connellsville yesterday takes a clean lead in the pennant race, with two games won and none lost. For two days they cannot be headed, owing to the fact that they will have a two day layoff because of the drop ping out of Somerset.

FRANCIS LEAVES.

Outfielder Loaned by Local Club to Winchester, Va.

Lawrence Francis, who has been playing right field for the Connellsville team since the opening of the season, left last night for Winchester, Va., where he will play with the first independent team of that place for the balance of the year. Winchester has won all but six of its 34 games this season, and some of them have been played with the fastest alms in the East.

Eddie Duggan, who is playing middle field for Winchester, came on and secured permission of the local directors to take Francis to Winchester with him. The Virginia team is made up chiefly of college men. Cantwell of Georgetown is the star pitcher. Pleiss of Houston will likely take Francis' place in right garden for Connellsville.

A New Feature.

Mr. David Margoff, owner and director of the Blot Theatre, the Buick Beautiful, will present to the lovers of motion pictures on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, a new and interesting novelty, which will consist of illustrated songs, with moving pictures. These pictures were one of the strong features of Hammerstein's vaudeville houses in New York City, caused a great deal of comment and scored a big hit. This is only one of the great features that will be introduced this coming season and from time to time he will be in touch with the many new and interesting features that are being presented throughout the country. We do not want to put any one out of business, but we will make our competitors give to the Connellsville public just what they are deserving of, a clean and wholesome entertainment, what they had been looking for before in the invasion of this new and up to date theatre, the house that is talked about and makes its competitors sit up and take notice. Comparisons are odious to others but not to us.

Our Worst Beats Their Best.

Shelburne, N. S., July 17.—In the first of the series of international dory races off this port the three challenging American boats defeated the Canadians. The Elizabeth of Revere, Mass., finished first; the Sunny Jim of Swampscott, Mass., second, and the Crescent of Annisquam, Mass., third.

Republican Mayor Elected.

Springfield, Ill., July 17.—Roy R. Reese (Rep.) was elected mayor by a majority of 1,927 over his Democratic opponent, J. H. McCreary at a special election held to fill the vacancy caused by the death of David S. Grimsby.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down what ever food or medicine may be offered you? Or do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, free of cost, and on each bottle of his Favorite Prescription, what his medicines are made of, and what they will do. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to anemic mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth easy and comparatively painless. The Favorite Prescription is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and curative nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine system.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommending each of the several ingredients of which Favorite Prescription is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. J. C. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

WEAR HORNER'S CLOTHING

DON'T WAIT.
Take Advantage of a Connellsville Citizen's Experience Before It Is Too Late.
When the back begins to ache; Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.
Pitied by a Connellsville citizen's experience
Mrs. Mary Bowers of 377 Tenth St., Connellsville, Pa., says: "We have kept Dean's Kidney Pills in the house ever since the year 1897, when Mr. Bowers first learned the merits of that remedy. At that time he was troubled with his back and kidneys. If he caught cold and worked unusually hard backache and pain, through the loins attacked him. The secretions from the kidneys at such times became very scanty, highly colored and irregular. He felt stiff and sore in the loins and muscles, and it was hard for him to work. Dean's Kidney Pills gave him such prompt and complete relief from these complaints that he was pleased to give a testimonial for publication at that time. Though working at the forge and anvil is a constant strain on the back and occasionally it has affected his kidneys and brought on slight attacks of backache, but Dean's Kidney Pills always relieved him before the trouble he came in any way serious. Last January he had an attack of lumbago and used Dean's Kidney Pills only a short time before he was as well and free from pain as ever. I have also used this remedy for backache and found relief."

Philadelphia, July 17.—The grand lodge of benevolent and protective order of Elks after two strenuous business sessions, has adjourned without having made any announcement as to the result of its elections. Moore Seattle three years; Thomas J. Coogan Cincinnati four years; and Robert W. Brown, Louisville five years. The new body, which is really a court which will decide all matters within the organization, came into life with the adoption of a new constitution. Under the system of appointment adopted the forum will be infused with new blood each year the term of one member of the body expiring annually.

What caused the delay in announcing the result of the election was not stated but members of the order say there were several unexpected and close fights. Grand Secretary Robinson stated after the meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock that there were 1,700 ballots to count and that there would be no official announcement until today.
